

INTRODUCING THE 3RD ANNUAL ASA FLOTILLAS IN CROATIA

Join the ASA crew in September of 2012 for an unforgettable sailing trip in Croatia.

For the third year, ASA will host flotillas along the Dalmatian coast of the Adriatic Sea.

Explore with us the romantic little ports and picturesque islands of the Croatian coast. Discover the history, gastronomy and charm of this wonderful country and go home with sailing memories of a lifetime. Croatia is the “In” sailing destination of Europe.

We are offering two flotillas with different itineraries.

The first flotilla will sail from September 1 through September 8 and will take you exploring the Dalmatian coast and islands from Split to Dubrovnik. The second flotilla will start on a return trip from Dubrovnik on September 8 and end in Split on September 15. We will take you island hopping along the way but each flotilla will have a different itinerary. You can join one or both flotillas and we guarantee a once in a lifetime sailing experience.

Captain Jean “John” De Keyser and wife Mila, who have been the tour guides of flotillas during the last few years, know the region well and will take you on this unique odyssey to sample the spectacular beauty and culture of the Balkans while enjoying first class cruising vacation.

We have several beautiful yachts, ranging from 35' to 54' available this year. Call early to ensure availability!

Captains:

Croatian law states that the skipper of a charter boat must have an internationally recognized barefoot charter certification or recognized captain's license and a VHF radio operator's license.

The ASA 104 (Bareboat Charter Certification) with an international endorsement obtainable from ASA will fulfill this requirement. You can obtain a VHF radio operator's license on line with the FCC.

If you or anyone in your crew does not possess an internationally recognized license, you will have to hire a captain.

The cost of a captain per week is $1,576.00, plus gratuity and food. The captain does not count as a paying member of the crew for the purpose of cost calculation. For example, if you are reserving space on the Jeanneau Sun Odyssey 49, the captain will take one of the 4 berths and your cost will be calculated based on the remaining berths that have been booked. The only exceptions are the Beneteau 50 and the Jeanneau Odyssey 54DS, which have a separate crew cabin.

Crew Matching:

Unless you book with enough friends to crew a yacht by yourselves, we can match you up with other participants and fill up a yacht. We will do everything possible to match non-104 certified crewmembers with experienced and certified participants. This way, you avoid the cost of hiring a captain and you get to learn from more advanced sailors.
